The residence of the Frements is a the estuary of the Kill von Kull.

There are two sons and a daughter in the house of Frement. The eldest sen, John Charles, or "Jack," as he is familiarly called at home, lives with his bandsome wife and two study hoys up the Hudson. He is in the navy, and his duties are connected with the ar rival and departure of ships in this harbor. His younger brother, Frank, is a licebount in the army, stationed up Crippled the Engine. The Brunswick (Ga.) Herald says that some malicious fellow when the law ought to put where he can do no harm, put five burs of scap in the water tank on the Brunswick & Wayeross road, near Wayerous, on Christmas day. The night express train, that came along next, filled up with the some water, and soapy water will not make steam. So the engine was had up on the track without steam or the power to make it until another engine could be sent out to pull the former train and engine onward. This is a Christmas prank that is neither funny nor sum t unt as dangerous as it was malicious. Let it not be repeated.

He Raises Cain in the New York Assembly.

The Man Who Had Petitions from Two Churches and One Gravevard. Immadits an Applory.

ALBANY, N. Y., Feb. 28 .- There was a ook of stern indignation on the face of Assemblyman Burns, of Brooklyn, when he entered the halls of legislation Wednesday morning. Over on the other side Assemblyman Howe, of New York, aut in his place a triffe pale and apparently lil at ease, though attempting to appear calm. The friends of Mr. Burns apbeared grave, as though their hosons oncealed some scoret of mighty import. Mr. Howe's friends seemed anxious and expectant. It was easy to see that some great trouble was impending. The very air of the Chamber was heavy, portending some hidden calamity. It was plain that Assomblyman Burns was mad, but it was only whon, later in the day, it was harned how grieviously he had been offended, that his fellow-statesmen began to realize how mad he really was. On the evening before Assemblymar Daggett had given a dinner in honor of the youthful, but good and great Mayor Low of Brooklyn. Mr. Low was a a visit to the capital in the interest of an increased water supply for Brooklyn, and it had been appropriately arranged to dominish the water supply of Albany as fulle as possible on the occasion. Provisions had been made for keeping the spirits of the party up to other ways, and the lack of water was not seriously feld. Lack in the evening Assemblyman Howe had been lavited, after the manner of men on such occasions, to respond to a toust and had entertained the party greatly. In the course of his remarks he had linestrated a point by quoting from one of Assemblyman Burns' speeches in the Assembly last Winter. Mr. Burns had a bill which he was very anxious to pass. He made a speech la favor of it, in which, with a rich lyish tongue, he had

The peace and dignity of Long Island and that other island so far away, and from which so many statesmen come, had been insulted, and they were disposed to resent it. Mr. Burns was a not a whit less excited and wrathful than the others A few mischlef lov-log hangers-on about the Capitol, seeing an opportualty to get up some excito-ment, took occasion to spur the offended statesm in on to desperation, and by the time he entered the Sainte Chamber he had already intlimited his intention of sending Mr. Howe a challenge. It was to Major Haggorty that Mr. Burns first indie tod his wailike purpose. To him he guld that he had been Insulted, and that Howe should apologize, or "I will kill Burns was gone Haggerty consulted with other members and notified Howe of what had taken place. Numorous plans were talked over to avect the threatened calamity. Mean-while Burns secured a pistol and prepared for active operations. He re-

Mr Howe began to realize that some thing in the nature of pacificatory meas-ures ought to be taken soon, if at all, and watching his opportunity, strolled over to the Democratic side, and, dropping Into a vacant chair baside the bate more ber from Brooklyn, began to smooth hin down. "I understand, Brother Burns," he began, "that you feel aggrieved at some has the following, which will, we thing I said at a dinner at the Delavan lionse last night. I wish to assure you that I intended no personal reflection on ment, but fear of the Democratic major-you. "No, sir; it will not. I insist that you make a public apology before the members of the House. I tell you this, that If you don't apologize publicly within twenty-four hours, I shall tender my resignation as a member of this fagislature, and will seek my satisfaction the first time I meet you on the street. I am not a coward, and will not take you unawares, but give you due notice? At that he slapped his pocket, in which he had the pistol, in a very significant and dramatle way. Finding it impossi-ble to pacify Burns, Mr. Howe returned to his seat. Efforts were made to get

TO OTHER BURNS DOWN. Mr Oliver was appended to, and Mayor Haugerty endeavored to get the pistol away from blm, but could not Mr. Barra was in earnest, and informed other parties that he had "not fouched a drop to-day." He was purposely refraining, so as to keep his bands firm, his nerves stendy and his eye clear. Burns wrote a letter to his wife, and fald it on Earl's In it he notified her he would no be home this week, and that he had got into a personal difficulty which would detain him some time. As there seeme to be no other way out of it, Mr. Howemade life apology. Rising to a question of providege, he said that information had reached him that Mr Burns was ag-as above given, appeared to satisfy Mr. Burns, for he immediately went over to Earl, got the letter to his wife and toreit up. He was not at his hotel early in the evening, and some anxiety was felt on that account. He returned, however, at eleven o'clock, and said that the affair between him and Howe was all over. He also said that if Howe had not made a public statement, that he should have resigned to-morrow, and sent a challenge to Howe to meet him outside the city. If Howe had not responded, he should have shot him on sight. It appears from Burns' statement that Howe's remarks at Daggett's dinner when they reached Burns became magni-fied into an alleged attack by Burns on Mayor Low in low Irish and a like asper-sion on Dr. Gray, of the Utica Asylum, and several others, all of which were enlurgements and additions to Howe's afterlinner speech, made by those who were trying to stir up a row.

Propuring for an Eurly Spring Open-

CHICAGO, ILL., Feb. 28. Activity is beginning to be apparent in marine circles again; preparations are being made for an early opening next Spring on an extensive scale, as an unusually successful season is expected. Although the weather for nearly a month past has been mild, its offects on the ice in the lake, from all occounts has been imperceptible, and it is quite improbable the loc will disappear before April 15. At any rate, this state of affairs is expected in the straits, where the weather is still very riotous, as it has been all winter.

The winter season here has been rather inactive owing to peculiar conditions of the markets and less than one-third of the tonnage in the harbor has been loaded. Freights have been unusually inactive, which fact tended much to hamper chartors. There has been no fixed rate, but in nearly all cases it will amount to Bout a four-cent rate on corn to Buffulo

Song of the Gambling Exedusters from Het Springs.

Hor Sparaga, ARK., Feb. 28.-The exodus of gamblers with the aid of the boottoes of the law and order people is a funny contradiction of the hitherto boast ful talk among the sports, that they were here to stay. The citizens' military company numbers sixty determined men, and it is wonderful to behold the influence they exert in enforcing the mandates of the Committee of Fourteen. Notwithstanding the frantic appeals made to Governor Berry to suppress the committee and its military backers, nothing has been done to that ond. Already nine of the worst gamblers have left town by special invitation, and others are fleeing when no man pursueth. Doran and his three confederates were yesterday escorted to the State Pon-itentiary in Little Rock for safe keeping. FORTY-EIGHTH CONGRESS.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 28.-Immeditely after the reading of the journal of the House Mr. Deuster (Wis) presented resolution of thanks of the Liberal Union of Germany, for their connection with Horr Lasker. He explained that it was ddressed to the House of Representatives and would have been laid before that body by the Speaker had the rules permitted him to present communications from an unofficial source.

German Empire were the embodiment of an idea antagonistic to the American idea of freedom and abhorent to the feeling of a liberty-loving people. If the reports are to be credited the German Chancellor returned the resolutions of the House to the prejudice of the ferman people, as the act would be construed as theirs. The letter just read denies that he expressed the sentiments of the German people. The resolution might have been faulty in construction, its phraseology may no have been such as would have been used by one not born and reared beneath the dag of the free; but if the resolution was not equal to the requirements of the occasion it was the fault of the head and no of the heart. It was an expression of condolence of a legislative body, with the people at the back of it, to another legis lative body of a people upon whom the heavy hand of death had been laid and one of its brightest jewels plucked. A. a German by birth and an adopter citizen of the United States, he desired to express a conviction that the action of the Liberal Union was a true index to the feeling of United Ger many, and that the action of Prince Bi marck would not rise above the dignity of a matter of personal vexation and in no way affecting the kindly relations existing between the two nations. It might h remature to criticise the action of Prince Blamarck, but when the official informa tion thereof was in possession of the House, he would endeavor to show that the Lasker resolutions were entirely kind and propor. Mr. Guenther denied that the people of Germany were hostile to this country or lis institutions, or that the letter of Prince Rismurck, in returning the Lucker resolutions, reflected the sentiment of that people. They did not approve of his discourtesy; neither did they indorse his autocratic action in prohibiting the importation of American products referred to had to be made in any degree the subject of debate. In his opinion, the House would the better consult its dignity by waiting until some official comment had been made upon its action When it was informed that the interest of honer of the country had been affected, there would be no doubt of perfect actouching the action to be taken. He moved to refer the resolution presented by Mr. Denster to the Committee on Foreign Affairs. So ordered.

The House resumed consideration of the pleuro-pneumonia bill, the pending amendment being that reported from the Committee of the Whole striking out the fourth section. The quarantine section amendment was agreed to—yeas 155, nay-

Mr. Randall offered a resolution recommitting the bill, with instructions to the Committee on Agriculture to report a bill which shall embrace a more thorough system of inspection to the end that no dis-cased cattle shall be exported, and a further bill to organize a more strict diseased animals, and make such regulations as will secure by the States such legislation as will cradicate pleuro-puenmonia and other cuntuations diseases. and giving the committee leave to report

Mr. Calkins of Indiana Inquired wheth er, in the present state of business, the of resolution would not be to kill the bill utterly.

Mr. Hatch (Mo.)—The bill is in constiutional shape now.

Mr. Randall demanded the yeas and

Attempt to Knock the Pins from Under the Position Held by Judgment

Oreditors. This afternoon, in the county court, attorneys for outside claimants will make motion that Judge Greer make a rule on Assignes Baker, who has charge of the John Irwin stock of clothing, to test the validity of the judgments and executions secured in favor of Poddecord & Burrows, for $1,695; V. Barber, for $6,310; Wm. M. Boyd, L. Burrows and V. Barber, for $4,725; and Mr. John Irwin, for $216 - making a total of nearly $14,000. The parties that will apply for this rule on the assignee are Goldsmith, Enneking & Co., of Cincinnati, claim $2183 50, who will be repreented by Crea & Ewing and L.D. Walker; Minor, Beall & Hackett, of Boston, claim $190, represented by C. C. Clark, and Strauss, Mooro & Beirs, of Rochester, N. Y., claim $1,677, represented by W. C. Johns. If the motion is allowed, then the parties named will go before some cirent judge in chambers, and attempt to have the executions quashed on the ground that the judgments were not written up at the time the executious were usued. If the executions are quashed then the Decatur parties named will have to go in on the same feeting as the ontside creditors and get only their share of the proceeds of the sale of the goods.

The stock was invoiced by Mr. Baker at a little over $20,000, allowing 20 per cent for shrinkage. The judgment exeoutions, as stated, call for nearly $11,000, while the claims of outsiders foot up nearly that amount, making a total of $28,000. The foreign creditors state that the stock will not sell for more than $15, 000 or $18,000, and that if the executions are not quashed, their share of the proceeds will be decidedly thin. The contestants say they will pay all expenses of the present proceedings.

Doath offWilliam Curtis Dien-at his bone in Tuscola, on Thursday, Feb 28, 1841, of lung trouble, William H. Curris, in the 76th year of nis age.

The deceased was a brother of Dr. Ita B Outtis, of this city, and has aften visited Decatur. He was born in Fairfield-Conn., Oct. 17, 1808. His parents moved to Delaware county, Ohio, in 1811, when he was but three years old. He lived there until the fall of 1835. He married Hannah Rosenerantz in Ohio and the fruit of the union was six children, four of whom no living. The family removed to Sangamon county, this state, in 1835, and two years afterward located at Oakland in Coles county. He engaged in farming pursuits in Coles county for a number of years, and for a time was the proprietor of the Curtis House at Oakland. Deceased has of late been residing with his children at Tuscola. For 49 years the deceased lived in Illinois, and having come to this state at an oarly day he has witnessed many changes in the growth and political listory of the state. He was a man of many excellent qualities and was highly respected by all his neighbors and acquaintances.

The funeral took place at Tuscola this (Finley) afternoon at 2 o'clock,

The Coming Camp-Meeting. Decatur is to have a great Methodist camp-meeting next summer. It will be held at the fair grounds, which have been leased for ten days, August 22, to Sept. let, and the expenses that will be incurred will aggregate about $1500, of which sum $200 will be paid for the grounds and $500 to evangelists. The other expenditures will be for the use of tents, etc. Rev. J. P. Dimmitt of this city, is the prime mover in the undertaking, and he predicts that if the weather is favorable the grounds will be crowded with christian people and visitors from Decatur and many distant points. The evangelists who have been engaged to conduct the meetings are Rev. J. H. Webber, of Obio, very successful revivalist. Rev. Dr. Lowry, a literary man and revivalist of ny, alleging in her bill habitual drunken-New York, whose writings are published in the Methodist papers; Rev. Henry O. Pratt, of Cedar Rapids, Rev. "Alvin Josun" and Diamonde.

Saturday night there will be big fun at the opera house, when the play of "Alvin Joslin' will be given. This complimentary notice of the company is taken from an exchange:

Charles L Davis, the famous comedian, with the wealskin overcont worth $1,500, with the dog "Jerry" worth $500, and with the $7,000 watch and $100,000 worth of real diamonds, appeared on Monday evening as "Alvin Josliu" before a large and enthusuatic andience in the opera-house. Mr. Davis immitable acting in the role of the old farmer brought the house down and caused continuous roars of laughter. His support was good. The lawyer, Theophilus Oglesby Dorry, played by H. C. Stapley, was one of the best characters ever seen in Port Jervis. All the others—ladies, villams, policemen and served special commendation.

PUBLISHED tables show that out of 132 mines whose stocks are listed at the New York Exchange only nineteen paid dividends amounted to $4,-145,000. Loss than one-third of the sixty commonly classed as "dividend paying" appear to have paid divilonds last year. But it is not to be inferred that the production of gold or of silver decreased in any such entio. On the contrary, Mr. Valeutine's annual statement shows that the product of mines in this country west of the Mississippi was $84,030,-212, against about $89,000,000 dur ing the previous year, and about $85,000,000 in the most productive ear in the entire period covered by the Wells-Fargo reports. The exdanation is that the mines which odly produce the most gold and silver are not, as a rule, those whose owners haste to have stock listed for Tan passage by the Senate of the McPherson bill on National bank merency gives a ground for hope hat the bill will become a law at this session of Congress. Sonator Welherson is a Democrat. The subject is not partisan, and his bill is a good one, much better, in fact, than the Potter bill, now pending in the House. The latter proposes to issue new lot of bonds, drawing 21 per cont. interest, to be used as the basis of circulation, but the McPherson bill covers the real ground much better by providing that the banks may usane bills to the extent of the par value of the bends hypothecated as the basis of their circulation.

Now That the proposition to erect statue of Wendell Phillips in Boston has been given up in deference to Mrs. Phillips' request, it is interesting to remember what the great orator thought of Boston memorial statuary in general and in particular. The City Hall statue of Quincy he termed a "dancing master clogged with horse-blankets." Greenough's Franklin was "a dilapidated soul, somewhat weak on his spindleshanks." Powers' Webster, at the state house, he looked upon as "a mass of nelv iron," and the Everett appeared to him to be pointing out the road to Brighton "with more energy than Everett showed in his lifetime." Horaco Mann's offigy, be said, represented him as having boats, the six-penny boys used to keep waked up so suddenly that in his back and let the penny boys have the hurry he brought half his bedclothes clinging to his legs and arms," and the Sumner-well, he never fully decided whether it the more resem bled "a heavily-moulded prize-fight er" or "an Irish porter in his Sunday clothes."

Ir now appears that, according to a law passed in July, 1882, if any National bank shall discriminate against the use of silver certificates at the Clearing House, it is liable to have its charter forfeited. Why, thon, are not these silver cortificates used with the gold certificates? Why is the above law practically violated every day by the exclusive employment of gold at the Clearing Houses. It would seem that, with this law on the statute book, there is no room for discussion of this matter at New York or elsewhere; no ground for any alleged agitation on the subject in the nucle of bankers and financiers. If the silver dollars are good money and have been made full legal tender by Congress for the payment of all dobts, public and private, then they should be used by the various Sub Treasurers the same as gold, at the Clearing Houses and elsewhere, custom or practice to the contrary, notwithstanding. The sooner this silver factor in our currency problem shall be brought to a definite solution, the better for all concerned .-- Chicago Journal.

-Gen Logan's Grandson.

Washington Spoulal. General Logan's little grandson Logan Tucker, is one of those odd, wise little children who are always surprising their elders by some unforeseen speach. This five year-old mite was perched on the knees of one of Gon. Logan's friends, the other day, and the gentleman producing a can transform into useful v. r' a shiny new nickel, made the young. ster's black eyes dance. The little fellow looked over at his mother, who shook her head and signaled for him not to take the gift, and then glanced at his grandfather, who gave him a storn look and another meaning nod. The Logan blood rose in the little namesake then, and grasping the new coin the harder, he put up his head and said in a tone of argument and entreaty: "Why grand-pa, he don't want any office!" A ROMAN CIRCUS.

Not Greatly Different from the Olyous of To-Day. [St. Nicholas.] Rome is actir early; citizens and strangers, slaves and soldiers are all hurrying toward the great pleasureground of Rome, the Circus Maximus. With flutes playing merrily, with swaying standards and gleaming statues, with proud young cadets, with priests and guards with crested helms, skilled performers, restless horses and glittering chariots, down the sacred street winds a long procession, led by the boy magistrate, Marcus of Rome, the favorite of the emperor. It passes into the great circus and files into the arena. Two hundred thousand people-think, boys, of a circus stantially those of the Nebraska law, | tent that holds 200,000 people!-rise to fixing the liquor license at $1,000 as their feet and welcome it with hearty hand-clapping. The trumpets sound prolude, the young magistrate (standing in his suggestus, or state box), flings the mappa, or white flag, into the course as the signal for the start; and, as a ringing shout goes up, four glittering chariots, rich in their decorations of gold and polished ivory, and drawn by four plunging horses, burst from their arohed stalls and dash around tho track. Green, blue, red, white—the colors of the drivers—stream from their tunies. Around and around they go. Now one and now another is ahead. The people strain and oheer, and many a wager is laid as to the victor.

Another shout! The red chariet turning too sharply, grates against the meta, or short pillar that stunds at the upper end of the track, guarding the ow central wall: the horses rour and plunge, the driver struggles manfully o control them, but all in vain; over goes the chariot, while the new mad lened horses dashed wildly on until checked by mounted attendants and led off to their stalls. "Blue! blue! Green! green!" rise the varying shouts. as the contending charlots still struggle for the lead. White is far behind Now comes the seventh or final roun t Blue leads! No. green is ahead! Neck and neck down the homestratch they go magnificantly; and then the cheer of victory is heard, as, with a final dash, the green rider strikes the white cord first and the race is won! Now, in the interval between the races, come the athletic sports; foot-racing and wrestling, rope-dancing and high leaping, quoit-throwing, and venile matches. One man runs a race with a fleet Cappadocian horse; another export rider drives two bare-backed from back to back as the horses dash around. Can you see any very great difference between the circus performance of A. D. 138 and one of A. D.

Beginning of the Carrier Hystom. [Moses S. Beach in New York Sun.]
After my father had been connected with The Sun for about a year, in sharge of the business department, he bought my unclo out. To give you an idea of the rude character of the first muchinery I remember that we had an old escillating engine, used for running a single rocking cylinder, and one of the foeders happened to got his foot under the pump crank. Well, it hart his foot terribly, but it broke the pump. That old ougino was in uso afterwards over in Brooklyn-used for pumping salt water for a bathing establishment on the Heights close by here. The Sun and The Conrier were the first papers that used stoam, and I think it was used by a 1-cent paper called The Transcript about the same time, or soon afterwards. I know it was about the year

1835. In that year there were not probably more than a dezen newslers in the whole city of New York, and the first of them was started by The Sun. The boys who afterward sold the six-name papers were paid by the week, while the boys who sold the penny papers were paid according to the copies sold. So, by mutual arrangement at the Albany back and let the penny boys nave the first chance at the passengers. Some of the routes became very valuable, worth as much as $5,000. This system was broken up by old Bonnett, who de-termined that The Herald should be supplied to everybody, and I have been witch amused recently to find his son endeavoring to re-establish the old carrier system, which was broken up by his father.

A MARVELOUS STORY

FROM THE SON: "28 Codar St., Now York, Oct. 28, 1882. "Gentlemen: My father rosides at Glover, Vt. He has been a great sufferer from Scrot-ula, and the inclosed letter will tell you what a marvelous effect has had in his case. I think his blood must have contained the humor for at least ten years; but it did not show, except in the form of a sorofulous sore on the wrist, until about five years ago. From a few spots which appeared at that time, it gradually spread so as to cover his entire body. I assure you he was torribly affileted, and an object of pity, when he began using your medicine. Now, there are few men of his age who enjoy as good health as he has. I could easily name fifty persons who would testify to the facts in his case.

Yourstruly, W. M. Phillips."

FROM THE FATHER: "It is both a pleasure and a duty for me to state to you the benefit I have derived from the use of Aver's Sarsaparilla.

Six months ago I was completely covered with a terrible humor and scrofulous series. The humor caused an incessant and intelerable itching, and the skin cracked so as to cause the blood to flow in many places whenever I moved. My sufferings were great, and my life a burden. I commenced the use of the SARBAPABILLA in April last, and have used it regularly since that time. My condition began to improve at once. The sores have all healed, and I foul perfectly well in every respect — being now able to do a good day's work, although 73 years of age. Many inquire what has wrought such a cure in my case, and I tell them, as I have bere tried to tell you. AVER'S SARSAPARILLA. Glover, Yt., Oct. Yours gratefully, HIRAM PHILLIPS."

The Root Soap

This soap is taken from the Mexican Palmes or soap root, and contains no sufmal fat. As a toile teap it is superior to anything ever offered to the public. While its cleansing expectly is times prestor than any soap made from allouit and grease, it contains nothing that would injure the most deficate skin; of the contrary, it will cure chapped hands, pimples, sambura and all diseases of the skin. After washing with this soap a short time the zon becomes smooth and soft, rendering the complexion close and tenutral. It will be tound unimitie ness but wash, in renovating and preventing dundriff. Its great purity and freedom from uniporal and spices article for the intunt but that can be preserved. It is the chapest soap you can buy, because it will go deriber and sive better satisfaction than any dir. Dont failte give it a trial.
